Tax Abatement Hearing
For Georgia-Pacific
Slated For Thursday

A public hearing to discuss a 12-year 50-percent tax abatement request by Georgia-Pacific will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday, January 16, at the Beaver Creek Township Hall.

This is the first public hearing on the Georgia-Pacific tax abatement request. The hearing was scheduled initially for December 2, but a snowstorm cancelled the meeting.

Beaver Creek Township Supervisor Cletis Spears said there will be no action taken on the request at the public hearing. The tax abatement request will be discussed and then action on it will follow at a later meeting.

One of the items to be discussed at Thursday's hearing will be why Georgia-Pacific filed the tax abatement request after Beaver Creek held a public hearing and gave approval of the plant locating here. The public hearing on the plant was held November 4. Georgia-Pacific filed the tax abatement request November 22.

The five-member Beaver Creek Township board has the authority to approve or deny the tax abatement request. Beaver Creek Township previously has approved a 12-year 50-percent tax abatement for the Weyerhaeuser plant.

The township board may grant an abatement for the full 12 years or for a shorter time. If tax abatement is approved, Georgia-Pacific pays only 50 percent of most taxes levied on the proposed $8 million resin plant.

The 'Beat Goes On' For Eight
Miss Grayling Contestants

The first full week of Pageant preparations behind them, our eight lovely contestants are looking forward to more hours of practice and more fun with their Pageant Moms.

Sunday afternoon, January 5th, the girls spent time at Rick Febey's Rainbow Fitness. Rick talked with the girls concerning muscle toning, what each of his exercise machines could do for them, and gave all the girls a complimentary pass to be used at their convenience.

Wednesday evening the girls had an exercise class with Teresa Furst - showing that with music and dance - exercise can be fun. Teresa also gave the girls a complimentary pass to her regular class.

Thursday was a practice for the pageant's opening dance number at the Creative Dance Academy, with Instructor Louise Tournaud Hayes. After a brief period away, Louise is back in full charge at the Dance Academy, and the pageant is happy to have her with us for the fourth year. The opening number this year was inspired by the Broadway Show "Chorus Line" and will be something entirely new. The number was choreographed by Louise Hayes and Jini Hindmarsh. Dance practice continues on Sunday, followed by a swim and movie night at the Hospitality House.

Though exams will take up most of the girls' time during this week, they will squeeze in a "Night of Glamour" at Susan McCurdy's Golden Touch Beauty Salon, and another dance practice, followed on Friday with a tour of the Weyerhaeuser facilities.

Still to come is a sledding party with dinner at Wendy's, and the Pageant Mom's Fun Entertainment Night, where the Moms entertain the girls. The contestants will also be concentrating on words and music for their special song, under the guidance of Karen Ross. Rehearsals will be held at the St. Francis Episcopal Church. Karen and Dave Ross will be singing and playing for the girls on Sunday, January 26th when they have their Friendship Tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schuster.

Throughout the weeks prior to the pageant the entire theme is one of friendship and

City Improvements
Total $4.7 Million
Over Last 15 Years

The City of Grayling has spent $4.7 million for capital improvements in the last fifteen years.

Most of the money has been spent improving streets plus water and sewer service. But the city has also built a new industrial park, constructed new buildings, bought fire department and city equipment, and purchased land.

The city received about $1.4 million in grants for streets, water and sewer projects, and building the industrial park. The rationale behind this goal was the improvement of the quality of life in Grayling by making the city a safer and healthier place to live and work.

"Although a good deal of work is still to be accomplished we believe that the City Council can be proud of the physical asset growth which has occurred since 1970."

"We look forward to the completion of our street construction program when all our streets have been paved with curbs and gutters and storm drains where necessary. We are also anticipating some renovations and possible enlargement of our Sewage Lagoon system which will increase the city's ability to expand."

"These efforts will demonstrate that, although they have never been stated in writing, the City Council and the Administration have set some goals for themselves. We have attained some (Industrial Park and Equipment) and made excellent progress on others."

The following is a look at the city's growth in physical assets during the last 15 years.

Registration Starts For $800 Medallion Hunt

By Jon Thompson

Registration starts Wednesday, January 15, for the Grayling Winter Sports Carnival Medallion Hunt offering $800 in cash and prizes.

A dozen medallions will be hidden around the county. The large one is again worth $500 cash this year. Eleven smaller medallions are worth $25 to $30 each in gift certificates from area businesses.

Everyone participating in this year's medallion hunt must register at one of eight locations: Caid's Grocery, Riley's Country Store, Cooper's Country Corners, The 7-Eleven Grayling store, Chief Shoppenagons Motor Hotel, Main Street Florals, The Crawford County Avalanche, or the Chamber of Commerce.

Registration costs $1. When you register, you will receive an official treasure map of the county. With the map you'll receive extra clues to help you find the $500 grand prize or any of the smaller medallions worth $25 to $30 in gift certificates. Official rules of the hunt will be included with every treasure map.

The medallion hunt starts Saturday, January 25, and could run until Wednesday, February 5. You will be able to register for the hunt from January 15 to February 1. You must be registered to win any of the prizes.

During the 12 days of the medallion hunt, clues will be given daily over the Grayling radio stations WQON and WGRY. The Crawford County Avalanche will publish a list of current clues each week.

The large medallion worth $500 measures 2½ inches across and 2½ inches from top to bottom. The smaller medallions are 1¾ inches across and 1¾ inches from top to bottom. The smaller medallions have the names of area businesses engraved on the lower portion.

Area businesses donating the $25 or $30 gift certificates for the medallion hunt are Borchers Canoe Livery, Rochette's Party Store, The Hair Station, Main Street Florals, Chief Shoppenagons Motor Hotel, Golden Touch Beauty Salon, Mac's Drug Store, Riley's Country Store, Caid's Grocery, and Cooper's Country Corners.

R & H Sports donated the 12 medallions and engraved each one.

This is the third year of the medallion hunt. The first year Donna Levitt, of Frederic, found the medallion worth $100 on a tree by Keystone Landing. Last year, Don Ashton and Monica Stephan Ashton found the medallion worth $500 on a tree near Cameron Bridge.

The 11 smaller medallions — a new item this year — will be hidden throughout the county with at least one smaller medallion in each township.

From Our Corner...

This week we are back to looking at ol' Smithy for the past half hour trying to get this turkey running so I can get out of here and get home for the second game pitting New England against the Miami Dolphins...we already have missed the Rams and Bears game...with that introduction, I'm sure that there are not many of our readers feeling sorry for the ol' fella...

We did have a few of our readers ask, how come I didn't put down on paper what I gave up through resolutions for the New Year in last week's column...

The answer is simple, I've been such a pure boy, that there are not many things for us to resolve against...following the questions, we did sit down and thought about what we really should give up...

The first was simple...we resolve to give up girl watching between 10:00 p.m. and 6:30 a.m. ...

We resolve to only eat peanuts one half hour before Thelma has dinner ready...

We resolve to only take in winter sports functions when they are held inside...

We resolve to be our humble self, until someone steps on our toes...(that's going to be easy to break)...

See, not much for the ol' fella to give up...especially at my age...

An idle thought...we would like to thank Mrs. Campau for the nice note...our plans right now are indefinite...maybe, after Halloween when we step down, I may come up with a different kind of turkey, and submit to the new head guy or girl for their consideration...

Really, for those like Mrs. Campau who read this turkey, we honestly believe it is time for new blood in the process of bringing the Avalanche to our readers...

We have been connected with the Avalanche now for 40 years...nearly, the last 20 as your editor...besides, just being tired, any business if they want to survive, have to bring in new wood to keep the fire burning with new ideas, etc...

Dang it all, I really slipped up in last week's efforts when all we mentioned was Michigan basketball...after the column we were informed that there is also girls' sports going on right now, such as the Volleyball team...I just happened to stop by Mac's and Katy McNamara brought it to my attention that the Vike's volleyballers were undefeated at the time and had just beaten Petoskey for the first time ever...sorry gals...we apologize to Becky Brown the varsity coach and Katy the JV coach...our young gals would really like a little support from the stands, and it doesn't cost an arm and leg, just a couple hours in the evening...I'm sure it will be an evening well spent...

Surprisingly, we do have readers asking about our den, and then there are some who say, is that all you have to write about?...for the doubters, if you saw the calamity, you would understand...

The Christmas tree is gone, finally, the boxes are not quite out of sight...and, our den still looks like it did last year at this time...full...our bride keeps telling me, I can't do much because my wrist still hurts...I can understand her feelings now, but, she didn't have a broken wrist last year, or the year before...or...

I still hold expectations of getting into my den if the deity is willing...and the well doesn't run dry...that is before Halloween...

We read with interest this morning Andy Rooney's column in the Bay City Times, on how Lybia has been a thorn on our backs for ages...we have a question? How can two countries, Iran and Lybia, smaller than most of our states, dictate to us...if it's oil, make asphalt jungles of the two...with their oil...

One more goes to bed, and our goodnight to T.J., Stefany and Amber, and to anyone who may like winter, we hope you have snofun...

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

Penny Pettyjohn, who will observe her 18th birthday next month, has been named and crowned as Miss Grayling of 1963. The presentation of the new queen and coronation was carried out at the warming lodge at the Grayling Winter Sports Park last Saturday night.

Serving on the court of honor for the new Queen are Julie Carlson, Carole Gross, Toni Madsen and Sharon Williams. They along with the new Queen were the five finalists who nervously awaited on the stage Saturday night while a sealed envelope was opened revealing that No. 8 was the new Queen. ## The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

ECUMENICAL AGNOSTICISM

Are Grayling churches turning people into agnostics? Are some people in Grayling justified in rejecting most religious teaching as false?

All churches involved in ecumenical unity are presenting a false hope to the lost souls of Grayling. Interview a dozen people on the street and you will discover that the faith of some will be based upon a God everyone worships in his own way. Honest agnostics reject such faith. They reason justly that if all these churches have different creeds, and preach different gospels to be saved, then most of them are false, or all of them are uncertain. The agnostic produced by the ecumenical movement is the most honest of the unsaved souls. His common sense tells him to reject all such religion confusion.

The charismatic responds that the differences in the creeds of the churches doesn't matter since the Holy Spirit makes us all one through religious experience. He would say experience is the test of truth regardless of what one believes. While we do not deny the religious experience of any person, how do we know the religious experience came from God and not the Devil? Pagans and Eastern Mystics have religious experiences too.

The ecumenical clergyman responds that any gospel is better than no gospel, and any christ is better than no christ. The apostle Paul said, "But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed. As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed." (Gal 1:8, 9). Jesus Christ warned us of the last days, "For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; inasmuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect." (Matt 24:24).

My dear agnostic friend, don't be deceived by all the confusion. The God who created all things, (John 1:1-3), has given you His revelation of pure truth in the Bible. (2 Tim 2:15-17). This same God came to earth and proved to be God by His works recorded in the Bible. (John 20:30, 31). This same God, "...his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed." (1 Pet 2:24). Believe the Holy Scriptures and Jesus Christ as your savior and God.

1986 Wild Turkey Census

The Wildlife Division, Michigan Department of Natural Resources, will be conducting a winter census of wild turkeys beginning this month.

Anyone having information on the location and numbers of turkeys in this area is asked to contact Ray Perez, Wildlife Biologist, at the Grayling Field Office by calling 517-348-6371.

Of special interest is the number of turkeys around the Hanson Hills Park Area. A winter release of 23 turkeys in 1983 at the Grayling Game Club has resulted in a turkey flock of over 150 birds.

Without artificial feeding, a large number will be lost due to the severe winter weather this year. The Grayling Sportsman Club and the Grayling Game Club have made feed available to help out the turkeys this winter. Your help in this census is greatly appreciated.

Editor's Mailbox

To The Editor:
To the person who responded about the "Head Lice".

I have taken my girls to the doctor's office to be checked and a nurse told me we don't check heads here anymore, take them to the County nurse, I did. I was told we don't check heads here, take your girls to the Doctor.

I've trouble with my eyes,
so I have a little trouble checking, but I do know what I'm looking for. So what do you do when the county nurse's office and doctor's office turns you away.

Signed,
One of the Concerned
Parents of Crawford County

To The Editor:

I am an Ohio resident, and am writing to bring to the attention of the residents and business people of Grayling and Crawford County that there is at least one deputy in the Crawford County Sheriff's Department who is performing his duties un-professionally and not in the best interests of the community.

At 8:00 a.m. on December 19, 1985, my passenger and I had just stopped for breakfast in a very nice restaurant in Grayling, and were traveling north on I-75 toward Gaylord. A Crawford County Deputy then entered the interstate ahead of me, also northbound, and traveled at least one mile at 50 mph. The right lane was completely clean and there was only a trace of well-scrapped snow left in sporadic spots on the left lane. I passed the deputy's car, increasing my speed to 57 mph in order to get around quickly, signaled, then pulled in front of the deputy and reduced my speed to 55 mph. The deputy immediately turned on his lights and stopped me. He claimed I had passed him at 62 and he had clocked me at 60 after passing.

I have a brand-new, front wheel drive, American-built car and have had my speedometer checked since my trip, finding it to be 100% accurate.

When I told the deputy I felt his radar was incorrect and asked him to follow me and test my speedometer, he was extremely rude and refused to do so. He then made the unfortunate incriminating statement that he'd "probably hear that story a lot from all the other out-of-state motorists (he'd) arrest this weekend".

I don't know if this illegal speed trap is condoned by Crawford County Sheriff
Harold Hatfield, but I feel certain the local business people whose livelihoods depend on out of state skiers and snowmobilers will be interested in knowing this situation exists.

I have many acquaintances in Ohio, Indiana, and southwestern Michigan who travel to and through the Grayling area annually.
They have agreed to boycott
the businesses in the area until I have had my citation refunded, and a letter of apology from the deputy.

I am hereby notifying Sheriff Harold Hatfield by certified copy of this letter today, and copies will also go to the Grayling Chamber of Commerce, Michigan
Governor James J. Blanchard, and the State of Michigan Travel Bureau in Lansing.

Perhaps we out-of-staters should travel to Wisconsin for our winter sports in the future, since we don't seem to be welcome in Michigan.

Sincerely,

Linda L. Bruns-Whyte

Sleep In A Silo??

Le Coache Tours To Offer Unique Getaway

Le Coache Tours of Grayling is pleased to announce the sale of one of the most unique three-day, get-away-from-it-all tour packages available in this part of the country. How would you like to sleep in a silo, dine in a depot and shop in an old mill. You will be able to do just that if you are a member of this March 11, 12, and 13, tour departing from Grayling.
And, as if that weren't enough, spend an evening at the theatre where you will see a professional production of the Broadway Musical Chorus Line.

The destination of this unique get-away is Akron, Ohio and the old Quaker Oats milling complex, you know, the place where wheat and rice were "shot from guns". The Quaker Oats Cereal Factory has now been renovated and houses restaurants, taverns and over 35 unique shops. In addition, the cluster of 36 grain silos built in 1932 and capable of storing 1,500,000 bushels of grain, have been turned into a luxury hotel. The silos, listed in the National Register of Historic Places, are a massive 120 feet tall and 24 feet in diameter. Because of the shape of the silos, each room in the Quaker Square Hilton is totally round.

The Quaker Oats complex, the Broadway Musical Chorus Line, a visit to one of Akron's historic homes, the Goodyear World of Rubber, the Goodyear Air Dock, (built in 1929 is the largest building in the world without internal supports), two dinners and two breakfasts are all included in this tour. For more information, call 348-6000.

Fire Dept.

Offers Tips On Space Heaters

The Grayling City & Township Fire Department offers the following tips when using space heaters:

- Put at least 36" between space heaters and com-bustibles.

- Don't add fuel to your space heaters unless its cool.

- Use only the fuel recommended by the manufacturer. Never use substitute fuels.

- Check the cords on electrical heaters often. Frayed or damaged cords should be replaced by an authorized repairman.

- Never leave your space heater unattended. An adult should always be in the house when they are being use.

- Plan and practice emergency escapes with everyone in the family.

- Install smoke detectors on each floor of your home.

King's Holiday Upon Us

by Richard Millman

MARTIN LUTHER King day, honoring the slain civil rights leader with a national holiday, is a fact for the first time this year — and controversy likely will continue, but on a more subdued basis for some time to come.

There are those who see the holiday as a recognition of black achievement. Indeed, Dr. King's widow, Coretta, said as much while back when she cited the observance as "a holiday to honor, through him, the achievements of all black people in this nation."

Personally, I prefer that the observance honor all persons — whether black, white, brown, red or any color or nationality — who have fought for the social, racial, ethnic, economic, religious or other human rights of any people, wherever and whenever they have been denied or endangered.

In that way, it seems to me, Martin Luther King Day can become a true national holiday.

KING'S MOST famous speech — his "I Have a Dream" declaration topping a civil rights march in Washington in 1963 — is properly famous already, and bears repeating and remembering:

"Even though we face the difficulties of today and tomorrow, I still have a dream... I have a dream ... that one day this nation will rise up and live out the true meaning of its creed: 'We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal.'"

"I have a dream ... that one day on the red hills of Georgia, the sons of former slaves and the sons of former slave-owners will be able to sit down together at the table of brotherhood."

"I have a dream ... that one day even the state of Mississippi, a state sweltering with the people's injustice, sweltering with the heat of oppression, will be transformed into an oasis of freedom and justice."

"I have a dream ... that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character."

"I have a dream ... that one day every valley shall be made low, the rough places will be made plain, and the crooked places will be made straight, and the glory of the Lord shall be revealed and all flesh shall see it together.

"This is our hope."
And, I trust, this is still the hope of all Americans.

WHEN THIS COLUMN reviewed relative commentary from the past year recently, space prevented repeating comments about the newspaper business. Acting on the belief that one of the press' shortcomings is not talking enough about itself, I ask indulgence for some few thoughts on newspapers and allied matters, expressed in the Almanack in 1985:

"For a quarter, or whatever the paper costs, the reader gets a great deal when he/she buys a newspaper. The quarter doesn't even pay for the cost of the paper and the ink, in most cases, let alone pay for the reporters and the pictures and all the other costs involved in putting a newspaper in your hand ... It's the advertiser who makes the newspaper possible. Readers sometimes don't realize that."

— June.

Commenting on a musing by Gov. Blanchard that being governor is a lonely job:

"In a very minor but similar way, I know how the governor must feel. Being a newspaper editor or publisher in a small town is somewhat the same — there's nobody around with whom to talk or review things who has the same problems you have. A small town newspaper is the only game in town, so to speak; and if there were another newspaper in the same town, the editor and publisher probably wouldn't trade secrets or problems anyway, because the competition is keen. Job isolation was one of the harshest lessons I had to learn years ago when I first become a small town newspaper operator."

— March.

And finally, this observation: "Generally speaking, my experience both as a reporter and in government indicates that a public official will do all right in media relations if he/she follows these guidelines: Know what you're talking about. Be open. Be honest." — July.

Warren M. Hoyt, Exec. Dir., MPA

tions for less political bickering and greater bipartisan efforts.

The study's conclusion of Michigan's likely development over the next 20 years includes a growing economy pulled by a stronger U.S. growth; continued center of major auto, smart industrial tools and associated product manufacture; flat employment levels in manufacturing; a slight reduction in population; wider dispersion of residents to western and northwestern parts of the state as well as Detroit exurbs; a clear trend of a revitalized Detroit; and blacks facing the greatest difficulties as a result of the economic changes.

Among steps urged in the report to take advantage of opportunities are:

- bring auto manufacturing and related wages into line with lower payments in other parts of the country and the world, or risk losing production facilities. State government can help by acting to hold down health care costs, and shoulder more of the costs of job training.

- continue efforts to reduce business costs to levels below those in competing states.

- implement a "sensible and dynamic strategy" involving improved state regulation and programs to support suppliers which was proposed for state partnership with General Motors and the UAW in an unsuccessful effort to lure the Saturn plant on an industry wide basis.

- increase investments in advanced technologies and engineering education.

- privatize some public services, with top candidates being prisons, health programs and management of welfare and unemployment programs.

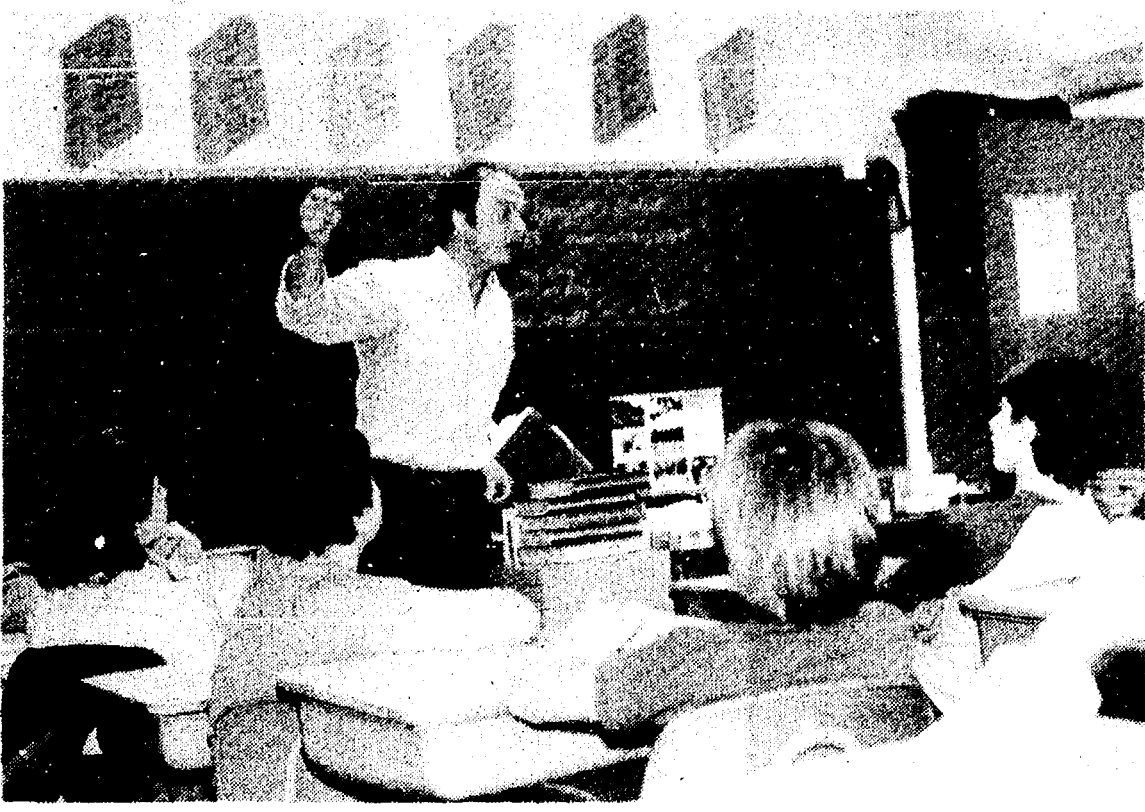

- redirect state spending more to investment in such things as education, industry development and transportation, while giving more scrutiny to consumption programs such as welfare.

- state policies which encourage regional decisionmakers to focus on shared opportunities and responsibilities in a metropolitan area in ways ranging from regional institutions to shared tax bases.

The study involved a look at three population centers, and found Detroit's revival lies in such things as continued riverfront development, improved competitiveness with suburbs for black businesses and the black middle class, acceptance of lower pay in the short term and a commitment to making Detroit the capital of black America; Grand Rapids offers a good model of regional cooperation that has helped begin diversification of an economy still too dependent on manufacturing; Traverse City's influence will play a major role in the growth of new resort/convention centers, and expansion of jobs in service industries, particularly research and development, and engineering.

Cole said the most controversial part of the report is its recommendations for lower wages, saying decisions last year by Mazda and EDS to locate in Michigan do not indicate wages are a problem, but that a skilled workforce is an advantage. "That does not indicate we have to get poor and that's what the report suggests," he said. He welcomed the report's recommenda-

GMS Students Fly on Poetry

By Judith P. Messack

"Do the skunk poem?" "You've memorized four and a half hours of poetry?" "How did you do that?" These were questions frequently asked by middle schoolers when oral poet Terry Wooten visited Grayling Middle School December 5 and 6. Sponsored by the Crawford County Arts Council, Wooten visited GMS literature and reading classes to share his love of poetry and belief that poetry is "music for the human voice. If you don't speak it, you don't get it all."

Wooten is a protégé of the late Frog Holler Michigan poet Max Elison. His goal is to be a poet in the oral tradition rooted to Michigan and the common people.

"Silence was never golden around Max," claims Wooten. Wooten, an orchard farmer from the Traverse-Bellaire area, spends much of his time visiting Michigan schools with a program combining dramatizing and speaking poems and stories. He told the GMS students he could recite four and a half hours of poems and stories and kept his poems "like a rolodex in my mind."

Wooten explained that written poetry is like a blink of the eye compared to poetry shared orally throughout history. Poems grew from story telling and were "a celebration of life, like prayers."

Herbal corner

How many of you have heard the terms: saffron sunset, saffron robe, saffron yellow? Well, darlin', I am going to give you a few figures for you to put into your brains and compute.

There are three stamens (or stigmas) per Crocus sativus (Saffron). It takes 60,000 plants to produce one pound of Saffron. How many stamens would you have in a pound of Saffron? Mind-boggling is it not? One grain of Saffron contains the stamens of nine flowers or 27 stamens in all. More than 20,000 pounds of Saffron has been imported in a year's time. It is difficult even for me to visualize the acreage of bulbs.

Safflower is very like in color, with a hint of aroma, and is sometimes used to adulterate Saffron. Saffron itself is aromatically strong; and unless you are very well acquainted with the spice Saffron, the ignorant buying a powdered product will not know the difference between the pure product and the adulterated one.

One gram of Saffron lasts me through seven to ten Saffron rice dishes — depending on how much I pinch. I use a small mortar and pestle to grind the stamens, although a spoon and a bowl will produce much the same results.

Saffron gives a beautiful bright yellow color to the liquid — whereas Safflower gives a yellow to red color — and is used to dye wool, cotton, etc. It is also used in breads and pastries, other dishes for the color, some dishes for its fragrance and taste — which, by the way, is quite pleasant — and I have seen it in some fish recipes.

Saffron is expensive, but well worth the price; but then who else is worth a little expense if not you, dear-heart?

Herbally yours,
E. Diana Cerelli, C.H.

COUNTY OF CRAWFORD Proposed Section 18 Application For Operating Assistance

All interested citizens are advised that the County of Crawford has prepared a Section 18 application as required under the Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964, as amended.

The application is on file at the Dial-A-Ride office at the Grayling McNamara Airport, Grayling, Michigan and may be reviewed between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5 p.m. after January 15, 1986.

Under Michigan Transportation Commission Policy, any citizen who would be affected by the proposed application may request in writing that a formal public hearing be held, concerning the social, environmental, and economical effects of this proposal.

Such a written request should be mailed to Crawford County Transportation Authority, P.O. Box 166, Grayling, Michigan 49738. The request must be received on or before January 31, 1986.

New Lottery Game "Tic Tac Toe"

Lansing — Michigan Lottery instant game players hoping to uncover a $20,000 or $10,000 prize will find even more chances in the new "Tic Tac Toe" game on sale at 8,300 retailers starting January 14.

"We designed this game to test player response to more cash prizes," said Lottery Commissioner Michael J. Carr. "Instead of a $1 million grand prize, we are offering more than $1.5 million in $10,000 and $20,000 awards."

"The odds are better than one in four that any ticket will win a cash prize or a 'Free Ticket,' with more than $7 million to be given away as $2, $5 and $10 prizes. With expected ticket sales offering a prize total near $10 million, we also have thousands of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000 winners," Carr added. "Any amount up to $600 can be collected directly from a Lottery retailer, so most prizes can be paid on the spot."

Following the familiar Tic

Tac Toe game most people learn as a child, players will scratch off a section of the ticket to show a completed game. If three O's are uncovered in a row — down, across, or diagonally — the ticket is a winner. And if three X's are uncovered, the prize is doubled. Scratching off the section marked "Prize" reveals what has been won.

"We think players will find some extra fun with the two scratch-off sections no matter which they choose to uncover first," Carr said. "With no grand drawing for this game, Free Ticket winners will not have to complete the back to redeem them."

The game also offers players a chance to use losing tickets to win one of ten 14 night Hawaiian trips for two or an optional $5,000 cash prize. Newspaper ads on January 13 and 14 will feature entry blanks which should be filled in and mailed with a losing ticket to be received by the Lottery no later than January 31. A blank piece of paper listing the player's name, address and telephone number can be used instead of the entry form. A random drawing on February 14 will determine winners who will be notified by telephone or letter.

The special mailing address for contest entry forms is: Michigan Lottery, "Trips to Hawaii" Sweepstakes, Lansing, Michigan 48960.

Proceeds from all lottery games are earmarked for the State School Aid Fund to help support K-12 education. In the past fiscal year, the Lottery contribution totaled more than $369 million, the equivalent of $115 in direct taxes per Michigan household.

GMS Scientist In The Making

Jamie Walker

This year, Grayling High School junior Jamie Walker is viewing her studies much differently. Her outlook on her education is more focused due to an intense summer vocational experience in biomedical engineering at Michigan Technological University. Because she enjoyed her biology class in her sophomore year, Jamie was already considering a career in science when she received information in the mail from Michigan Tech. The information described Michigan Tech's Summer Youth Program. Her biology teacher, Judith P. Mesack, helped Jamie to apply for the program with an application scholarship from the Booster Club and the Kiwanis Club. Jamie's parents paid the remaining tuition.

Michigan Tech's program included a description of the career in biomedical science as well as laboratory experience in specific fields. Jamie's instructors were students working in degrees in biomedical engineering and either electrical or mechanical engineering. Jamie's program, biomedical engineering, involved many laboratory experiences. The most interesting, according to Jamie, "involved brain-dead turtles." Students took electrocardiograms of the turtles before dissecting them. In their dissection, some students found turtle eggs!

Michigan Tech's summer program was not all work and no play! Part of the pleasure of the summer program was living at the university for a week. Jamie stayed in the dorms and ate in the cafeteria with students from Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Canada. Classes were from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Evening activities were basketball, volleyball, swimming, picnics, dances, and a "gong" show.

Jamie is currently taking zoology and chemistry classes at GHS, and is considering her career options. Her summer experience at Michigan Tech "furthered my knowledge of different biological fields I could enter. It also gave me a better idea of what to take in college." Based on her experiences last summer, Jamie is considering a medical physiology program at Michigan Tech for this coming summer. She is considering Michigan Tech, University of Michigan, and Michigan State for her pre-medical programs. She is currently preparing an anatomy project with a cat cadaver for the Crawford-AuSable Schools' science fair.

District Court

The following persons appeared before Judge Joel I. Mills in the 83rd District Court:

Roy Dutton, 49, of Fredric, demanded preliminary examination to a charge of larceny in a building. A $500 personal bond was set.

Anissa Ann Young, 17, of Grayling, plead guilty to operating a vehicle without a license — never applied for an operator's license. She was fined $155 or 15 days plus one day in jail.

Ernest Liddell, 19, of Detroit, had a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property dismissed by motion of the prosecuting attorney because the complaining witness did not wish to proceed.

Leo Parisien, 55, of Southfield, demanded preliminary examination to a charge of non-sufficient funds check for more than $50. Bond was set at $2,000 cash or surety.

Resource Review

by Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

Both snowshoe hares and cottontail rabbits are important to man. The most obvious importance is that of a game animal. Tasty, challenging to hunt and widely available throughout the state, both species are hunted from fall through late winter. Both species are also primary prey species for many kinds of predators. Coyotes, foxes, bob cats, lynx, hawks and owls all depend on the rabbit and hare for survival. Therefore, trappers depend in part on them, also.

Both species, but especially the snowshoe, have population cycles. The snowshoe cycle apparently increases slowly, with minor ups and downs, for several years when there is a tremendous increase for a year or two. Hares are everywhere, in some cases causing damage to crops and other food species. Then 'shock disease', in which there is some degeneration of the liver, causes a catastrophic drop in hare numbers. The cycle is 10-15 years long. The last peak locally was in the mid-to-late 1970's.

While hares and rabbits have a high reproductive rate, they also have a high mortality rate. Some people feel that hunting and predation cause the population fluctuations. The opposite is true. Predators depend on the prey population. When prey increases, predation increases. Rabbit hunters, as do all sport hunters, take only surplus population members.

Receives High Achievement Award

Cheryl Cusick, former area resident was presented with the High Achievement Award at a recent awards banquet and three-day conference of Knights Inn managers held at Opryland Hotel in Nashville, Tenn. Managers of the 70 Inns, throughout the country, were in attendance.

Ms. Cusick, opened her new 115 unit of Knights Inn in Nashville in October 1984, as a resident manager. At the formal opening and property showing held recently at her Inn, Ms. Cusick was presented the Key to the City, by an officer of the mayors office.

Ms. Cusick, formerly owned and operated a catering service in the area, before moving South.

Cheryl is the daughter of Willadeau Cusick of Higgins Lake.

Zimmerman-Weiler Speak Vows

April M. Zimmerman and Philip J. Weiler were united in marriage on Saturday, October 19, 1985, in a double ring ceremony at Mt. Hope Lutheran Church. Pastor Henstling officiated the forty-third ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Two hundred fifty guests attended the marriage ceremony.

Organ music was proved by Claudia Albright, accompanied by Sue Moore as the soloist. "The Wedding Song" was the musical selection.

The bride is the daughter of Joseph and Shirley Zimmerman of Luzerne. April is originally from Bay City, a graduate of Mio High School in 1982, and is currently working for the Grayling State Bank.

The bridegroom is the son of Philip R. and Deanna Weiler of Roscommon. Philip was originally from Coldwater; a graduate of Roscommon High School in 1981, and is now the General Manager of McDonald's of Grayling.

The bride wore a white floor length gown with long shadow sleeves, with a Queen Anne neckline and close fitting bodice of lace and simulated pearls. The gown had a chapel length train and matching veil.

Heidi Goss served as Maid of Honor. She wore a floor length taffeta gown in dusty rose. The bridesmaids were Shawna Watters, Katie Bohlinger of Mio, and Michele Moshier. The attendants were dressed in burgundy floor length taffeta gowns.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with tails, bow tie, and cummerbund.

Todd Fuller served as best man. The groomsmen were Pat Weiler, Mike Thornton, and Dean Molnar. The attendants were dressed in silver tuxedos with tails and ties, and cummerbunds to match the girl's gowns.

Tony Rosin and Larry Tyler served as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Zimmerman wore a light blue floor length gown with an empire waistline and long sheer sleeves. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Weiler wore a beige floor length gown with a matching lace jacket.

Transplant Coordinator Named For Northern Michigan

Carol Bennett of Boyne City was recently named transplant coordinator for Northern Michigan for the Organ Procurement Agency of Michigan.

Mrs. Bennett, a registered nurse with 10 years experience as a renal dialysis nurse, has a good understanding of the need for organ transplants.

The Organ Procurement Agency of Michigan coordinates cadaver organ donations and transplants for the state.

Bennett serves the Northern Lower Peninsula and seven Eastern Upper Peninsula counties for the non-profit organization. She is available to provide educational programs about organ donation and transplants for health care professionals, civic groups and other public organizations.

The well-informed professional plays a key role in the process of organ donation, Bennett said. Identification of potential organ donors and offering grieving families the option of organ donation can help save lives and give solace and consolation, she said.

The success of any procurement and transplant program, Mrs. Bennett said, is largely dependent on the cooperation of physicians and nurses in community hospitals who recognize potential donors and make referrals.

To learn more about the agency, contact Mrs. Bennett at the toll-free number: 1-800-482-4881.

Holiday Baskets Distributed

Through the efforts of the Grayling Business and Professional Women and the many civic clubs and individuals in Crawford County who contributed to the successful preparation and distribution of holiday baskets to needy families in Crawford County. The 24 members of BPW worked many hours co-ordinating this undertaking, they gave freely of their time the whole week before Christmas. They labeled, sorted, filled boxes with food and clothing getting ready for the delivery people on Monday morning, December 23, 1985. Without the last minute effort, the whole plan could not have taken place.

The baskets included food, hats and mittens, toys and pajamas for children. Some of the key groups contributing to this effort include, R.S.V.P., knitting and sewing; American Legion, Kiwanis, wrapping boxes; Glen's Market, food and delivery to site; and Le Coache Tours, the building site. Many other groups and individuals contributed time, money and donations.

It is exciting to see so many diverse groups join together for a common cause. This work resulted in over 180 baskets providing goods to over 575 adults and children and making a Merry Christmas for these families.

The Grayling Business and Professional Women organization will look forward to working together with these groups for baskets in 1986.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

by Wendell L. Hoover, Park Interpreter

If you have never worked in the woods with a crosscut saw and axe, while up to your knees in snow with your ear flaps down I guess you can't very well imagine what it is like. I dare say there are those who will read this who will recall all to well those days when their breath hung in the winter air as well as the vivid pain of a branch striking a not quite numb cheek.

I don't know how many sawlogs or sticks of pulp wood you cut each day, but a hundred logs or sticks a day was a decent days labor for me. By todays standard it didn't amount to much, since it was twelve cents for a sawlog and six cents for a stick of pulp wood.

Some time back I came across a snippet of information which might be of interest. I don't know why the foreman bothered to record the following, maybe because he sensed an end to such things and felt future generations should know what had happened. His crew of seventy-five men, twenty horses, and fourteen oxen started on one hundred twenty acres of pine timber, upon which the foreman estimated there were at least twelve thousand trees. The crew cut one hundred four trees a day, from which they sawed five hundred twenty-two logs per day. It took one hundred fifteen days to complete the job. The foreman didn't say, but fallers were typically paid a dollar a day, so each of those logs cost about two cents in labor cost to have cut.

Grayling Players To Produce Mystery Thriller

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, January 23, 24 and 25, the Grayling High School Players will present "The Haunting of Hill House" in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium. Curtain time has been set at 8:00 p.m. and tickets are presently available from cast members, at the high school office and at the door the night of the performances. "The Haunting of Hill House" was adopted for the stage by F. Andrew Leslie from the novel by Shirley Jackson, upon which the motion picture "The Haunting" was also based.

This play, is a chilling and mystifying study in mounting terror in which a small group of "psychically receptive" people are brought together in Hill House, a brooding, mid-Victorian mansion known as a place of evil and "contained ill-will". Led by the learned Dr. Montague (Rob Fitzgerald) who is conducting research in supernatural phenomena, the visitors have come to probe the secrets of the old house and to draw forth the mysterious powers which it is alleged to possess-powers which have brought madness and death to those who have lived therein in the past.

Volleyball Team Defeats Tall Petoskey Squad

Grayling put away Petoskey, last year's co-champions, to open Michigan Huron Shores Conference action last Wednesday.

The Vikings were led by the net play of Shelly Denton.

"Shelly played probably the best overall defensive game I've ever seen a Grayling volleyball player have," said head volleyball coach Becky Brown. "She was excellent attacking, she played super defense blocking or always going up in their face, and she had some incredible saves - on balls everyone thought for sure were gone."

Piper Ostrowski joined Denton in leading Grayling against a tall Petoskey team.

"Piper had some outstanding pick-ups and she hit some intimidating spikes."

Brown said that one time Beth Bedard, Denton, and Ostrowski pulled off an Olympic fake to perfection. Bedard set the ball short for an apparent hit by Denton and when Petoskey took the fake, Ostrowski drilled an ace.

Denton had 22 blocks, 14 spikes, and 6 tips. Ostrowski had 19 spikes, 6 tips, and was 96 percent on her bumps.

Julie Brooks, Kathy Partin, and Sue Casler led the team with strong serving. Jamie Kaiser and Stacey Hinds contributed good setting along with Bedard. Wendy Pittman and Chris Schwartz also added good court play as Grayling did everything right.

Brown said her squad was tight at first, but after they lost the first game, they got angry. "The momentum switched then and Denton, Ostrowski, and Brooks came alive at the net."

The J.V. squad won 15-3, 15-13, 11-15. Dena Pratt led the serving with Carrie Trudgeon, Jenny Money, and A.J. Pratt also serving well. Jill Brackenbury, Trudgeon, and Cindy Sabin led the court play.

Grayling played Saturday in the Petoskey Invitational and failed to advance out of their pool. Grayling beat Charlevoix 15-7, 15-11. But they lost 15-5, 15-3 to Brimley, the Upper Peninsula champions, and Kalkaska, a Class C power, 15-12, 15-13.

Brown said Brimley beat Grayling without any question. In the Kalkaska game, however, Grayling made mistakes and beat themselves.

Ostrowski and Denton were named to the All-Tournament 2nd Team. Twelve players were named to the 1st and 2nd teams out of 149 players.

Alzheimers Disease

One of the forms of dementia that strikes people from all walks of life is Alzheimers Disease. For years it was thought to be senility or hardening of the arteries. It is neither, it is a disease that involves degeneration of neurons in the brain rather than blood vessels. Approximately 15% of those over the age of 65 (some four million persons) have some degree of cognitive impairment. The majority of these cases are due to Alzheimers disease.

One noted geriatric specialist commented that Alzheimers looks like death from boredom. To help relieve the boredom friends and relatives of Alzheimers victims must encourage them to do whatever they can still do for themselves and by themselves. Because the disease varies from person to person there is no telling what an individual may be still able to do 3 or 5 or 7 years after the diagnosis.

Alzheimers disease is one of the most frequent causes of memory impairment and mental confusion. So far there has been no cause or cure found for this type of dementia. This disorder results in a gradual and progressive loss of brain cells, which manifests itself in persistent and continued loss of memory and judgment. A change in personality, with episodes of aggressive or agitated behavior which make it difficult for the person to receive proper attention. Some of these symptoms can be controlled or modified. Among the most important methods of treatment for Alzheimers disease is to provide an environment that will allow the individual to move and act as freely as possible with danger to themselves or other people. This may require that activities be organized so the Alzheimers victim may participate at a level that is suitable and not frustrating.

We have started an Alzheimers Support Group here in Grayling. This is for family, friends and caregivers of Alzheimers victims. We meet the third Friday of each month, at 3:00 p.m. at Grayling Health Care Facility.

Five GHS Wrestlers Win Medals at Clare

The Mat-Men returned home Saturday night from the Clare 10-team tournament with their best showing so far this year. With 4 weight classes not filled for the tournament, Grayling led the way through the second round with 19 points in the lead. Then they dropped to 5th place and Roger City won the tournament. Coach Ferguson said "our team really put it together and looked very good. The boys all wrestled hard and before the season is over, there's going to be some surprises."

Grayling had one 1st place

Champion 105# Robert Johnson. Robert now has the record of 12 wins and 2 losses. 2nd place medal went to 145# Ward Jones. Ward's record is 12-3 for the season so far. 3rd place 128# Tim Colling with a 9-4 record. Also 155# Brian Kernstock received a 3rd. place medal. Brian's record to date is 8-6. Bubba Nielson also worked his way into the finals and came out with a 3rd place medal. Bubba's record now stands at 4-8.

Vikings Comeback Stalls In Overtime Defeat

Grayling rallied from seven points down with a minute and a half to go to tie Roscommon, but fell 56-54 in overtime.

Coach Butch Hayes said his team played hard the whole game. With only seven players available, Grayling found enough energy to come back late in the game. In the overtime they had a chance to win but they missed a lay-up, turned the ball over, and missed a shot at the buzzer.

Their turn-over in overtime was only their seventh of the ball game - a statistic that helped keep Grayling in the game.

Tom Bacon led Grayling with 15, Jason McEvers had 11, Todd Hull 10, Jeff Palmer 8, Wayne Casler, 7, Todd Klingler 2, and David Somerville 1. Hull led in rebounding with 8 and McEvers had 6.

Grayling led 18-16, 29-26, and 43-31 at the quarters in the game at home last Tuesday against the Bucks.

At Gaylord Friday, Grayling stopped the league leading scorer Rich Gray, but fell 66-49. David Somerville, Todd Hull, and Kevin Hudson played well defensively in a diamond-and-one against Gray. Gray had 4 points and three fouls at half with Gaylord only ahead by 34-29. Gray finished with 10 points before fouling out in the last minute.

Grayling committed 23 turnovers against Gaylord, and the Blue Devils didn't even press.

"Most of the turnovers were mental mistakes," said coach Hayes. "And most of them happen in the third quarter when we were out-scored 16-2."

The Vikings fell behind 56-37 as the third period ended and the game was out of reach. As a team, Grayling shot 15 for 60 from the floor. In contrast, the Vikings nailed 19 of 28 free throws.

Bacon and Hull led with 11 each, McEvers had 10, Casler 6, Klingler 5, Somerville 3, and Hudson 3.

The Vikings played Charlevoix at home Tuesday, Jan. 14.

Crawford Co. Snowmobile Council Needs Members

The Crawford County Snowmobile Council needs members - at least 25 to stay alive.

Terry Wright, Grayling Chamber of Commerce Director, is trying to revive the council. Membership in the council dropped to zero last year.

"The first job this year will be to find businesses or individual members," Wright said. "The object of the council in the past was to promote snowmobiling here. It's only function was to support, both financially and verbally, the Michigan Snowmobile Association."

Wright said the Michigan Snowmobile Association's main functions are to promote legislation that helps snowmobiling and to act as a clearinghouse for DNR snowmobile trail grants. The DNR grants funds for grooming snowmobile trails, developing trailing, and placing signs along trails.

The Crawford County Snowmobile Association pays dues to the Michigan Snowmobile Association. Wright said if the county group attracted a lot of members, there might be enough money to advertise.

"Snowmobilers spend about $1 billion annually in Michigan," he said.

The businesses who benefit from snowmobiling the most are motel, restaurant, bar owners, and snowmobile parts, sales, and repair places.

Wright said the Houghton Lake area promotes snowmobiling more and they own their own $60,000 trail groomer.

The Crawford County Snowmobile Council held a meeting three weeks ago and Ron Mavis, of Sno-Trac Village, is serving as president of the board of directors. Carl Craft, of the North Country Lodge is vice-president, and Joyce Kolka is secretary.

Anyone interested in joining the council should call Terry Wright.

Currently, the DNR is grooming two snowmobile trails in Crawford County - the 25-mile Skyline Trail and the 45-mile Lovells Trail.

The abundant snowfall has made this season one of the better ones for groomed trails, says Frank Barber, one of the DNR workers from the Grayling field office grooming the trails. He and Duane Brooks normally groom the trails five days a week.

Grooming the 25-mile Skyline trail usually takes one day traveling at speeds averaging three to five miles an hour over the trail. The 45-mile Lovells trail usually takes two days to groom.

Sometimes when the trails have a lot of ruts, Barber or Brooks will turn around at the next intersection and make another pass over the trail to try to fill in the holes better.

"The temperature is a big factor in grooming," Barber said. "If the temperature is in the 20's or so the snow will move and pack right into the ruts. If it's colder, the snow is just like powder or dust. You can move it but it won't stay. The first time a snowmobile ski hits it, it's gone."

The two main county trails are marked with orange diamonds or dots on trees and routed signs. Barber and Brooks replace signs along the trails each day they groom. The routed signs are frequently stolen.

The Chamber of Commerce has maps of the Skyline and Lovells trails and trails out at Camp Grayling.

working together. While each girl will be trying to do her best, and is hoping to be chosen to represent Grayling for 1986, and be the recipient of the scholarship - the entire pageant staff tries to stress that each girl is a winner in her own right. Each one has qualities that make her very special. It takes courage and dedication to be a pageant contestant. We feel that the experience gained, the friendships made, and the knowledge that so many people in the community are working with them, supporting them and loving them - make it all worthwhile.

Neurologist to Speak at Alzheimers Support Group

By Nancy Holcomb, Activities Director
Grayling Health Care Center

Dr. Jeffrey Sheppard, Petoskey area Neurologist will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Crawford County Alzheimers Support Group on January 17 at 3 p.m. at the Grayling Health Care Center.

This meeting is open to anyone who would like to learn more about Alzheimers Disease.

Dr. Sheppard will be discussing the symptoms and effects of Alzheimers Disease, what it means for victims and their families, and answer questions regarding the disease process.

Alzheimers Disease currently affects some 2.5 million Americans. In addition to these 2.5 million Americans are millions more who provide daily care - often these caregivers are family members or close friends.

Some symptoms of Alzheimers Disease include forgetfulness of common words or names of family members and friends, how to do simple arithmetic or how to tell time. Along with this loss of memory other symptoms may appear including a bad temper, violent outbursts, and a lack of understanding of situations and/or tolerance of others.

The Alzheimers Disease and Related Disorder's Association defines the Alzheimers victim as one who gradually loses the ability to make sense of what their eyes and ears tell them.

As the disease progresses, Alzheimers victims dependency upon others increases to include such activities of daily living as bathing and dressing making it increasingly difficult for the caregiver to cope.

The Crawford County Alzheimers Support Group was founded in November of '85 to offer emotional support to Alzheimers victims and their families and to share information regarding this widespread disease.

If you would like more information regarding Alzheimers Disease or the Crawford County Alzheimers Support Group, contact Maude Rice at (517) 348-8522.

Chamber Chatter

By Terry Wright

Successful Chamber Directors always reserve personal opinion which seems to help them maintain some job security. However, I am so new at this job that maybe I can speak up and still think that my key will open the office door in the morning.

Since my return to Grayling in late June the "catch and release" issue has been at the forefront of local news. Both the fishing and business communities are up in arms over the quality of fishing on the AuSable. In my opinion, (I hope these are not my, "famous last words"), both groups are missing a much more important issue. An issue that deals not only with the quality of fishing and the local fishing economy, but with the existence of fishing itself.

The AuSable Mainstream and East Branch plus the Manistee and Bradford Creek have head waters originating from the same water table that feeds into and out of Otsego Lake.

The possible contamination of Otsego Lake is the heart of the environmental problem currently plaguing industrial development in Otsego County but I haven't heard a word about it from anyone in Crawford County. A chemical spill around Otsego Lake would devastate the economy in our area. I am not an expert on the problem and I certainly don't have any answers but, I feel very strongly that it is an issue which is crucial to our future. We must take a stand, NOW! Without our "holy waters" we have no future.

Is anyone listening??

Is He Yours

It can be pretty disturbing the first time you realize that your baby really isn't yours at all — that you do not possess him. Yet the sooner you do realize it, the better. We can't possess another person no matter how dearly we love them. And in the case of our children, we are custodians, not owners.

You take him for a walk around the block and people stop you to say, "What a beautiful baby!"

You try to be modest about it, but your heart is bursting with pride. He is the most beautiful baby — and — he's yours!

Or is he?

Start going to church this Sunday. Chances are that they've even got a nursery for beautiful babies!

He is a beautiful baby — and you, naturally, want nothing more than for him to grow up into a fine young man. It is your responsibility, in the years ahead, to help him do so — and you will find the strength and guidance to aid you in your task in your church.

Daniels Den

This Saturday on Jan. 19th Daniels Den will be presenting Jamboree Nite. This will be the first time we have had two groups to host. Adonal is from the Petoskey area and are a very well rounded group. The band consists of three guys, one on the piano and two guitars. Our other group is a brand new one from Kalkaska. The group consists of four, one on the piano, a banjo player, drums, and three singing. We are very proud that our daughter Lori is in this group. This will be their 2nd time playing out of their church. They entertained this Thanksgiving at a community event in Kalkaska at the People's church. Come join us it will be a real evening of music and variety, because there will be others entertaining, too.

Daniels Den is located in Grayling at the corner of I-75 Bus. Loop and M-72 West. We open at 7:30, and music begins at 8:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. We have all ages enjoying this music, why don't you join us this week?
